The gauzy batting of the New York Americans, which has kept then in subjection for the last week, was such yesterday as to afflict them with a shutout. The Browns beat them, 3 to 0. Most active in stripping the Chancelings of needful base hits was Earl Hamilton, boyish looking, but the only man who ever jumped the width of Missouri and back hour in forty-eight hours. All he did was to loop and lariat them over the plate, and SENATORS MAKE TRIPLE STEAL. the New Yorks fell all over themselves succumbing to his left handed wiles. It wasn't so much that Hamilton was unloosing any particular wizardry, though New Yorks couldn't hit. The way they're ers here this afternoon by 4 to 2. Mitchell he pitched a capable game, but that the going now they couldn't hit the floor if they fell out of bed.

Ray Keating pitched a game which would have had a chance for victory had it been buttressed by a moderate amount of hitting. The Browns got to Keating cleanly for two runs in the third inning, which was a mortal blow inasmuch as the New Yorks couldn't score at all; but New Yorks couldn't score at all; but pitchers can't be expected to do shutout work every time to win. This was the every inning.

The Browns played crisp and swift

The quick handling of Peckinpaugh and Truesdale retired the Browns on a double play in the second inning, and the Moams turned the Nyams back with one in the same inning after Holden had bottled up a chance by lack of decision in base running. Holden opened with a base hit, and Nunamaker dropped a fly in right which struck in front of Gus Williams. Holden went part way down the line, but Holden went part way down the line, but instead of being on his mental toes to anticipate the play, to get the jump on it. the wasn't sure it was safe until it had struck, and Williams threw him out at second base. Thus a base hit was killed, and the double play followed when Peck-inpaugh grassed to Pratt.

Wares, who was interfering with New Tork's prospects all afternoon with his versatile accomplishments, bunted safely in the third, and Agney second him with remendous three bagger past Holden. Holden had to dig into the geranium beds in centre to get hold of the ball, and Agnew might have had a home run by running it out. He played it safe, there being none out, and scored on a passed ball. He'd have scored anyway, as Shotton whisked a single to centre.

Keating did excellent work in the fourth. He prevented scoring, although a pass and a fielder's choice stationed two on bases with none out. The next three Brownies couldn't bust the ball further than the pitcher. In the New York fourth the bases were filled, but with fourth the bases. PHILADELPHIA, May 19.—Byron Houck, who has been with the Athletics since the spring of 1912, was released to-day to the Baltimore club of the Internaable, while again he would mount the rubber and pass every player that faced him until ordered to resign. CINCINNATI, May 19 .-- It remained for the old reliable Mathewson to put a stop to the Reds' winning streak, and Big Six performed the feat in the most able fashtoo to-day. Matty even went so far as to break a record in his victory over Herzog's crowd by a score of 5 to 1. The recordbreaking occurred in the fourth inning when he punched Johnny Bates in the ribs with a fast one, the first batter the sterling burler has hit in over a year. He hit two in 1912 and none last year. . But even then the little slip served in good stead, as the baldheaded Red fielder was doubled up quickly on the next play.

Only once was Mathewson in danger, and that was in the fourth when the locals finally managed to find him for a few safeties, enough for two runs, which tied up the proceedings for the time being. But that was all. While Matty did allow a few scattered hits after that little scare, he tightened up like a drum and sailed home a victor. Big Six, who is immensely popular with the local fans, got a round of cheers as he annihilated the Reds inning after inning, and when the last man had been put out a great and final cheer was sent up for the veteran.

Davenport is a recruit brought up from the Texas League and is said to be from the Texas League and is said to be a comer. Davenport got himself in trouble at the very outset but managed to pull through without a scratch. After Bescher had Cy Falkenberg wasted a perfectly fine summer afternoon at Washington Park yesterday by pitching for Indianapolis against the Brooklyn Federals. Cy won his game by a score of 15 to 2, but there wasn't a great deal of glory in it for him. Indianapolts might have got along all right without any pitcher, judging from the way Bill Bradley's boys behaved.

Almost from the start the pastime was a slaughter of Tip Top pitchers, Of three that were hurled into the pit in a vain endeavor to silence the fire of the invaders, Chaney alone showed the least vestige of capability. But even he was found for three runs in the last four innings, and three runs would have won for Falkenberg at any time.

Juul lasted less than four innings, and the wonder is that Bradley tempted fate that far. The only way this fellow could overwheiming lead of the Hoosiers was Field. The score: accomplished before the home talent could C. C. N. T.

A far better setting might have been arranged by Manager Bradley for the local debut of Chaney. When he assumed responsibilities the count was 12 to 1 against him. A trio of visitors who had much to do with the run getting and run manufacturing were Bill McKechnie, Benny Kauff and Frank Laporte. All of them had seen service with the New York Americans, Bill no later than last season with Frank Chance's ill fated club. Bill actually got two runs and one hit during the tilt, more doubtless than he piled up the tilt, more doubtless than he piled up in weeks of effort for the Peerless Leader.

Chance Releases Catcher Not Neede With Nunamaker Present.

Manager Frank Chance of the New York Americans announced last night the release of Catcher William Reynolds to the Jersey City club of the International League. Reynolds has been instructed to report to the Skeeters at once.

Reynolds was obtained by Scout Arthur Irwin from Houston of the Texas League at the same time Harry Williams, the first basemen, was purchased from Galfirst baseman, was purchased from Gal-veston. He gained the reputation of a re-liable, slugging backstop in the Lone Star State. He hit fairly well during the spring training trip, but soon proved himself far too slow on the bases to be of real value in fast company. When Manager Chance purchased Nunamaker from the Boston Red Sox he had no further use for Rey-nolds, who should improve any latent whilly for better through regular services. ability far better through regular service than by warming the bench at the Polo Grounds. The transfer of Reynolds to Jersey City was arranged a couple of days ago, but for a while the big Texan de-murred about going there. He voiced a preference for Houston, to which club Dode Criss and Charlie Rose--two of his battery mates--were returned after spring

In the meantime Chance has on his hands again Pitcher Lynn Brown. He re-turned yesterday from Jersey City with the announcement that he would not play with the Skeeters under the terms of his contract. This is Brown's first season in contract. This is Brown's first season in professional baseball. He was a hero of the semi-pro patrons of Buñalo before signing with New York last winter. Brown was a battery mate of Wally Schang, the great catcher of the Athletics, before Stallings signed that backstop for his Buñalo international League club in 1912. It was rumored yesterday that Chance was in negotiation for a first baseman and an outfielder of batting repute. The Peerless Leader is dissatisfied with the weakness of his club outside the pitching staff. Chance denied, however, that he had any designs upon either Outfielders, Birdie Cree or Bert Daniels, of the Baltimore Orioles. These men were turned over to Jack Dunn on optional agreement, but the New York boss saw enough of them as reputed major league stare a year ago.

NOTES OF TRACK AND FIELD.

Mike Ryan, winner of the Boston Marathon of 1912 and one of the United States team at Stockholm, has been suspended by the local registration committee pending investigation of charges. Ryan has been employed as coach by the Montclair High School. He appeared as a starter for the two infie race at Princeton last Saturday, but was prevented from competing by J. M. Connolly of the registration committee.

Jim Duncan, the discuss thrower, who has been missing from the usual haunts of the Bradhurat Field Club members, was discovered yesterday at Meadow Brook, where he has an opportunity to throw the discuss in more aristocratic surroundings. He is practising control and form, but got the discus out 144 feet on his latest attempt. Jim is pointed for the 1916 Olympics and is prestry certain of making the team.

St. Louis, May 19 .- The Cardinals have gone wild. Not even Nap Rucker could stop them to-day. The great left hander was called upon to check the St. Louislans but was unequal to the task. The Cardinals won, 6 to 2.

For three innings Rucker pitched his regular game and the Cardinals popped up dinky flies off his sweeping curves

Dolan, who got four hits, opened the fourth with a double down the left foul line. Jack Miller lined a triple to deep left centre. Chief Wilson hit the first ball pitched safely over second. All of which counted two runs. The next inning Huggins doubled and Dolan registered him with a single. Rucker was taken out and Wagner went in. Dolan stole second, and went to third after Daubert made a brilliant running catch of Miller's foul near the grand stand. Then Miller threw wild to catch him off third and he sauntered home. The Cardinals added two more in the seventh. Huggins singled, Dolan followed suit and Jack Miller counted them with a double to left. The score:

Considerable emphasis was placed on racing starts and following the course. The two eights were started repeatedly. All the men have improved in watermanship since the triangular race with Columbia and Pennsylvania and their blade work shows the effects of Dr. Spaeth's coaching. The drive is good and the men are getting well on toward the maximum out of their stroke. They are in good condition and will put up a good race on Saturday.
